

Press release – Zermatt, May 2017

New Chef de Cuisine

Heinz Rufibach returns to the Grand Hotel Zermatterhof

Bern native Heinz Rufibach, 55, is the new Chef de Cuisine at our fine-dining restaurant, Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni. Locals and regular guests have fond memories of Heinz Rufibach's cuisine from his time as Chef de Cuisine at the Zermatterhof from 1996 to 2002.

Heinz Rufibach is one of the top chefs in Zermatt. His reputation and his role as an ambassador for Swiss cuisine mean that he often makes appearances abroad.

Passionately patriotic

Heinz Rufibach has remained loyal to Switzerland throughout his career. His passion for his homeland is something that is reflected in his cooking. He is always on the lookout for new creations and places great value on seasonal, local products. But, for him, quality is more important than sourcing absolutely everything locally. He takes a very practical approach to his work and experiments with each ingredient before using them in any of his dishes.

Try his cuisine from the end of June

Those who want to sample Heinz Rufibach's exquisite culinary creations at the Zermatterhof take note: the Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni is open every evening except Mondays and Wednesdays from 27 June to 17 September 2017. To celebrate the start of the season at the end of June, the new Chef de Cuisine will be serving up his interpretation of Alpine gourmet cuisine. Visit www.zermatterhof.ch for a taste of the culinary delights that will be on the menu.

Contact for more information:

Roman Haller, Matterhorn Group

roman.haller@zermatt.net

+41 27 966 67 71